Annexure-H Scope of Work

1. SCOPE OF WORK.

Scope of Work

The technical scope of work is to provide total Video Conference system/solution as turn-key basis in the design and implementation of High Definition Video Conferencing solutions. This project includes but not limited to the following:

The broad scope of work for the bidder under this RFP shall be

- To deploy HD videoconferencing at HO and all specified Circle Offices of the Bank
- To schedule and manage all MCU conferences centrally
- To configure the HD end points to be able to initiate point to point and multi point calls (via HO) with all other locations where in the end points are deployed
- To ensure smooth functioning of conferences at all points of time
- To enable and manage both scheduled and ad hoc conferences from the MCU during bank working hours
- To integrate the existing MCU with the new MCU as a fall back arrangement to support standard definition calls.
- To liaison/co-ordinate with Network Service Provider for End-to-End Connectivity required for Video Conferencing Solution.
- To release the existing video conferencing unit as per buy back arrangement in the existing locations

The proposed solution should have the following General Features:

The solution should be complete in terms of supporting both ISDN and IP networks and should include all the elements required to connect to HD end points over the existing IP network in the bank, SD end points, and also external end points outside the Canara Bank network over ISDN network.

The suitable solution for High Definition Video Conference System should be provided by the selected bidder to work both on ISDN & IP, for which necessary components/devices should be supplied by the selected bidder along with the system devices. The cost of such component/device should be included in the Video Conferencing System as mentioned in the BOM.

The solution should include HD MCU hardware, necessary software (either in standalone form/appliance) for gatekeeper, scheduling and network management functionality, HD group conferencing end points with HD Professional Display monitors.

The solution should allow the bank to schedule conferences via the MCU up to 6 months in advance, send notifications to participants of conference scheduled, monitor and moderate all conferences from a central location, configure conference settings for each conference including video, audio, data (H.239) settings, speed of connectivity for each conference, configure for dial out or dial in mode of conference and also schedule ad hoc conferences.

The solution should be future proof. Both MCU and HD group conferencing end points should support latest HD resolution (720p and 1080p) to ensure that the bank may be able to scale to higher quality/resolution conferences in the event the bank wishes to do so on upgradation of the IP network.

The MCU should be future proof - should have the ability to upgrade to support Telepresence conferences.

The MCU solution should be completely scalable and should be able to support up to 50 HD at a later point of time, if required.

The solution should be integrated with recording and streaming in the future.

The solution should support the existing videoconferencing infrastructure in the bank till the bank chooses to discontinue the usage of the existing SD end points and MCU. The existing MCU should be configured to interoperate and cascade with the proposed MCU and be redundant to the proposed MCU. The proposed MCU should be Telepresence ready for future upgradation.

The solution should not compromise the bank's IT Security Policy. All access to the MCU should be controlled and only end points registered with the gatekeeper should be able to connect to the MCU. Password access to conferences may be deployed to ensure high level of security and to avoid misuse of the MCU ports and equipment MCU access and operation to be restricted to only MCU operator and bank nominated officers. This is to prevent misuse of MCU resources.

The solution should be able to generate monthly reports on MCU usage - number of calls made, number of ports used, bandwidth used etc.

One or more qualified engineers to be stationed at the Head Office and at all locations for smooth implementation of the Project. The selected bidder should specify the no. of support engineers required / to be stationed at the locations during the period of implementation.
